February 2009

My Dream...

Name: Zoey Li 3rd grade

I have a dream that people would stop polluting the world. I also have three ideas to stop pollution. They are recycling, stop littering, and using carpooling more often.

If we recycle more, we wouldn't throw away so many things and it would help stop pollution. When ever you recycle something, you get five cents. Also, we could use lunchboxes instead of paper bags, because then you don't have to throw away paper bags and then buy more. We should also recycle because a lot of trash will build up on Earth. I don't want a dirty Earth. Sometimes recycling can be fun. You can use some items to create things, like using a milk carton and turning it into a bird feeder. That's why I like to recycle.

Another way to stop pollution is to stop littering. If we stop littering there would be no garbage on the streets. So, we will have clean neighborhoods. I don't like dirty streets because sometimes I step into garbage on the sidewalks. If there was garbage on the streets, they will be very dirty. Also, I don't understand why people litter. They can hold on to it or put it in their pocket intil they get to a garbage can. Littering is also bad because if a police man catches you littering, you will have to pay a penalty.

Finally, the last way of stopping pollution is by carpooling. Carpooling is when two or more people get into one car instead of everyone getting their own car. When you use carpooling you use less gas. And when we use gas, the gas pollutes the air. And I don't want to breathe dirty air because it's dirty and it's not good for you.

If does these things maybe Earth will be cleaner, greener, and less polluted planet. Then finally everybody will live in a nice clean place.